LEST WE FORGET—The Carmel River does run clear and placid, as this picture by Carmel photographer Roger Fremier indicates. And despite the appearance of the river now, there will come a time when this picture can be taken again. Any pictures by Fremier that appear in the Pine Cone may be purchased at the photographer's studio on Dolores between 7th and 8th.

Council Airs Visitor Complaint, Suspends Local Firm's License

By Gunnar Norberg

What circumstances make a sales transaction an "unfair, unjust and fraudulent" one?

Can the removal of import labels from foreign-made merchandise constitute such a circumstance?

Or a sales price many times the shop owner's cost on a given item?

Or faulty information to a customer about the particular country where a gift item was made.

These and many related questions were considered by the Carmel City Council, sitting as a quasi-judicial body during the first hour-and-a-half of last night's long meeting trying to decide what action to take on a complaint by a honeymoon couple who described circumstances surrounding the purchase of a porcelain figurine from Saul Heffes, owner of Carmel Galleries.

Airman First Class Lawrence Renkover of Lompoc said that he and his wife, Sophia, visited Carmel Galleries last month when they were on their honeymoon.

They had looked at various figurines and finally had decided to buy one from Heffes.

Heffes, said Renkover, claimed the figurine had been reduced from $90 to $45. After Renkover decided $45 was more than he could afford, the price was cut to $32 and the sale completed.

Mrs. Renkover said other figurines were priced from $5.95 up, and therefore they decided to get an appraisal from Lewis K. Hunter, owner of Viking Sails, who said the wholesale price on the item was $7.50 and that the retail price should not have been more than double that.

Hunter corroborated this before the City Council last night. He also said that imports from Japan, where he said the figurine in question had been made, had to be labeled as imported from that country, but that an import label could have been removed.

Renkover said he understood Heffes to say the figurine "had been made in Italy by a craftsman named Gino," and that Renkover had felt a higher value could be attributed to the object if it had indeed come from Italy.

In elucidation of the question about whether Italy or Japan had been the place of manufacture, George Schroeder, attorney, contended that his client, Heffes, could have referred to the making of the object by an "Italian craftsman" in the Orient or in Japan.

Councilman Ken Brown considered sale of an item which cost $7.50, at even the reduced price of $32, was exorbitant, while Mayor Barney Laiolo described the transaction unfair and Councilman Frank Falge called it misrepresenting what was sold.

In answer to a question by Councilman Eben Whittlesey, Airman Renkover said he would have paid less for it if he had known it came from Japan instead of Italy as he had been led to believe.

Eventually Councilman Herbert Blanks moved to suspend Heffes' business license for a period of 15 days, starting today, and the Council voted unanimously in support of that motion.

Next on the agenda was a public hearing on the matter of trying to control excessive heights of residential buildings. The proposed ordinance which was given first reading, would require a permit from the Planning Commission whenever a structure more than 24 feet in height was proposed. The measure was initiated by Councilman Falge.

Final plans were approved last night by the Council for street changes on Junipero between Ocean avenue and 8th street. Curbs and gutters are to be installed on both sides of Junipero from Ocean to 7th, but only on the west side of the street between 7th and 8th.

Concern has been expressed about tree removals which will be required just south of 7th on the west side of Junipero, to straighten the roadway and to make the new alignment possible, but the answer given by Street Superintendent Bill Askew is that new trees will be planted to replace those lost, at suitable points along the street.

Separate traffic and parking committees were discontinued last night by Mayor Laiolo, and a new joint committee was named, composed of Walter McCloud, Gen. Robert McClure, William Sefton, Robert Downs, Clayton Neill Sr., Robert Spencer and Mrs. Donald Craig. Two members of the Planning Commission whose terms are expiring—Charles McEwen and Edward Neroda—were re-appointed. The Council took note of the resignation of Donald Teague and directed that a letter of appreciation be sent to him for his past services. His replacement, Dorothy Green Chapman, will be seated at next Monday night's adjourned meeting of the Cultural Commission.

In other matters, the Council completed action on the city annexation of the entire width of Santa Lucia street. For many years, the south 10 feet of Santa Lucia has been outside city limits, and thus in county jurisdiction. With five-sixths of the street's width inside the city, and one-sixth outside of it, responsibility for it has been divided.

Three ordinances, approved last month, were

West Shows At Art Association

On exhibition during the month of March until Apr. 2 at the Carmel Art Association gallery are the works of Carmel artist Barbara West.

Mrs. West, who began her life in the theater as an actress and director, is a member of the Carmel Art Association and has exhibited in San Francisco and extensively around the Monterey Peninsula.

Born in England, Mrs. West studied speech and drama at Albert Hall and for some years was on the London stage.

After her marriage to engineer R. Rolleston West, the couple moved to Canada,

The Toggery's Tempetuous Times

By Charles M. Strosnider

Blow Hot! Blow Cold!

And the Toggery was off on another adventure.

It seems only a brief time ago that after months of planning, buying and building, stocked with the utmost in feminine apparel, and following a successful opening party, the Toggery found that Carmel-by-the-Sea decided it was time to resurface Mission Street.

This timing also coincided with the peak of the tourist season.

Have you ever seen hot, black macadam tracked onto gold carpeting? Something like the opener for an English horror movie.

We move to Act Two. Setting: the Monterey Peninsula Country Club. Time: afternoon, Monday, Feb. 24. The ladies of the Medical Auxiliary of San Benito and Monterey Counties sold tickets to establish scholarships for nurses' training.

Like the old fashioned doctors who made house calls through snow, sleet, bridges out and other obstacles, 238 women showed up in some of the worst weather this area has ever seen.

Trees were falling down, houses sliding down slopes, milk cows marooned on newborn islands.

But the feminine pursuit of fashion and fantasy was too basic an urge to be balked by nature.

President elect, Mrs. Darrell C. Jewett, in charge of the fund drive, and outgoing president Mrs. Thomas O'Neill, welcomed them to a cold, unlit reception. The storm had knocked out the power.

Barbara Jackson, owner of the Toggery, was on hand with seven lovely models to entertain the auxiliary with a fashion show. The models ran around shivering in the dressing rooms in their "scanties" fumbling for their dresses in the dark.

Sid Frohman was recruited from somewhere to provide a masculine voice to describe the ensembles as presented — no power, no P.A. system.

Finally, Howard Jackson rounded up an emergency portable power supply and all things went swimmingly.

Meanwhile, back at the dressing rooms, a butane heater was brought in from the bar area. It worked, only too well. It got too hot. It singed the fringe. Back to the bar.

Blow hot. Blow cold. Women's vanity must be served. Humanoids have survived these millenniums in conflict with nature, gaining nature's grudging respect, for she has come to admit "Never underestimate the power of women."

Red Cross Bloodmobile Visit Is Community Event for Carmel

When the bloodmobile comes to Carmel, as it will tomorrow, Mar. 7, it is always a community event.

The town's Number One donor, Jim Kelsey, with eight gallons to his credit, is always at the door before the volunteers have the covers off their typewriters.

Close on Kelsey's heels are Carmel police officer Del Wermuth, deliveryman Jimmy Ybarra and building contractor Walter Helm, all seven gallon donors.

A hubub of conversation fills the Red Cross chapter house as volunteers greet donors, business people and housewives hail each other and the volunteer doctor, often Dr. R. A. Kocher, retired Carmel physician, smiles a welcome.

The volunteers and even the nurses from the Blood Center in San Jose have come to look upon many of the regular donors as old friends. Jimmy Ybarra has been given the nickname of "Sunshine," Father Nicholas, who usually enters singing, is known to all, Eben Whittelsey's dog, accompanying his master, knows the routine, sailors from Point Sur are made to feel at home.

The canteen, presided over by Mrs. Ezra Jennings, is the real focal point.

Here, over the sandwiches, coffee and cake conversations go on in earnest. To most, the real purpose of their coming to the bloodmobile seems incidental to the meeting and greeting of friends and neighbors.

The new or first time donor is "clucked" over by the volunteers and staff as he or she is directed through the process of registration, history taking, the donor table and finally the canteen where, in addition to refreshments he is given a shiny red blood drop pin.

Special attention is given to the deferred.

"We used to call them rejects," says Blood Center chief nurse Muriel Canuel, "but we don't anymore. It was bad psychologically.

Deferred is more appropriate for the person who is unable to give blood on a certain day, but may be able to donate the next time."

She did not amplify, as she might have, that the person who has bolstered up his courage to give blood for the first time and is turned down feels decidedly "rejected" and may never return.

Usually a hundred or more people are successful donors during the hours the bloodmobile is in operation; 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., many faithfully donating every three months.

A 60th birthday automatically disqualifies a donor no matter how healthy or how willing he may be to continue giving blood. At a recent bloodmobile a near 60 remarked to the volunteer nurse taking his history that this was his last visit due to his upcoming birthday and that he "was certainly going to miss this gathering." Later at the canteen table when he was urged to come back to visit any time and was thanked by Blood Program Chairman, Jim Mulrooney, for his many past donations, his eyes grew misty.

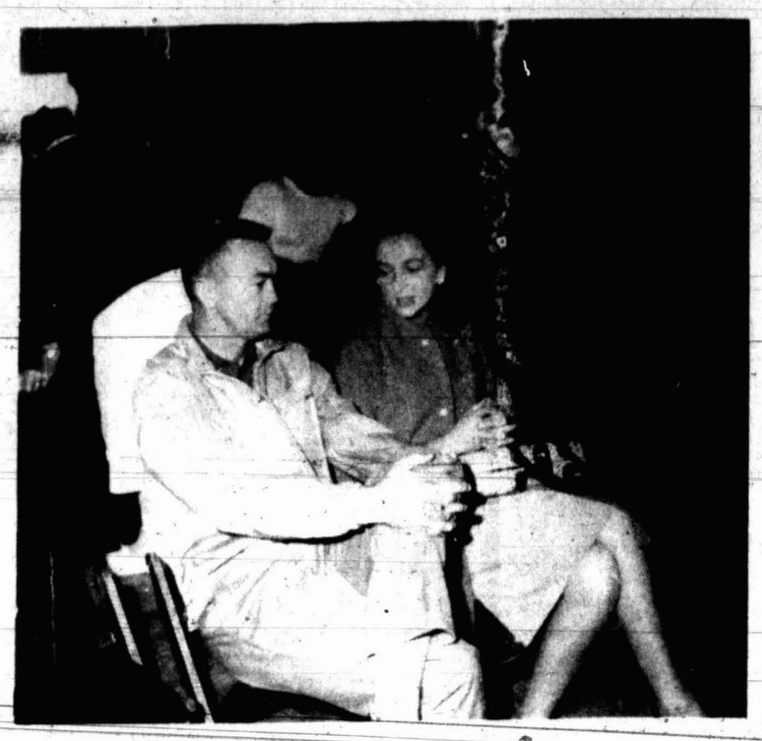

The four specially trained nurses who come from the Blood Center to do the veinpuncture all say they enjoy and look forward to the Carmel visit because of the friendly atmosphere. As the refrigerated truck is being loaded they have a final cup of coffee and chat with the volunteers before returning to San Jose. A good day, meaning over a hundred units, or pints of blood collected, raises the spirits of all.

The bloodmobile will be at the Red Cross chapter all day on Friday, Mar. 7, and all are welcome to become "involved" in this community event.

According to Red Cross director Mrs. Dorothy James, the need for blood donors is specially great at this time.

"Unusually heavy demands are being made on our blood bank," she said. "During the first three weeks of January, 56 units were used by Carmel residents which is about twice the normal rate.

"We collect about 100 units every four months, so you see we are not going to meet our needs unless our collections are stepped up."

WE'LL BE RIGHT WITH YOU — Carmel police officer Delbert Wermuth and Mrs. Saul Weingarten of Pebble Beach chat while waiting to give their blood.

PROFESSIONAL VOLUNTEER — R. A. Kocher, M. D. (retired) after many years of practice in Carmel keeps up his comunity contacts as volunteer physician at many bloodmobiles.

YOUR BLOOD IS FINE, WE'LL TAKE A LITTLE BIT — Volunteer nurse Nancy Reicks tests the hemoglobin of prospective donor Mervin Sutton, manager of Neilsen Brothers Grocery.

ALMOST BY ACCIDENT?

Among the many letters we receive at the Casa Munras expressing appreciation for an enjoyable time, few receive as much readership as did the one reproduced here. We are sorry we have to, in any way, disagree with such a great tribute, but we do! For even if Mr. Hennion's visit was "almost by accident", the service wasn't!

Editor's choice

By Tom R. Hennion, Editor, Advance-Register

AS A SOMETIMES TRAVELER, I've become almost obsessed with the idea that all too many major hotels have forgotten their primary purpose for existence: To serve (one of them calls it "pamper") their guests. Too many provide as little service as they can get by with while nicking the traveler for all sorts of rediculous charges.

That's why I'm so appreciative when I run across a hotel that still understands and demonstrates what the word "hospitality" means.

When I find such a hotel, I immediately become hooked on it. My list of hotels on which I'm hooked isn't long. It includes the Century Plaza in Los Angeles (by all odds, the greatest of all modern hotels) and the Trinidad Hilton in Port of Spain. It also includes the Kona Inn on the island of Hawaii. The latest addition came about almost by accident.

With three friends, I spent a weekend at the Casa Munras Hotel in Monterey recently — and I can't recall ever having a better time or receiving finer treatment from all hands.

Parts of the Casa Munras (one wall of the dining room, at least) have been in existence since 1824. Maybe that rich heritage has helped the present day operators to retain some of the old charm and grace that is so evident through the entire establishment.

The Casa in advertising throughout the State, has tried to project an image that reflects the richness and color of this great Peninsula. Our advertising brings us new customers from far-reaching areas, and we know the services we offer must be in keeping with our warm description of this area. Besides, we like people, and know this is how they like to be received!

Maybe that's why our Garden Hotel is as popular as a lunch spot, meeting place and cocktail lounge with the local residents as it is with out-of-towners. Good service at the Casa is never by accident.

Jujitsu Classes Teach Control Says Instructor

Judo, Jujitsu and karate are more than a means of self-defense, according to B. E. Baptiste, chief instructor at the Peninsula Judo and Jujitsu Academy.

"These arts train children and adults in self-control and develops them both mentally and physically," Baptiste said.

The academy has about 150 students currently enrolled in classes divided into three levels — junior, for ages to 12; intermediate for teenagers 13-16, and adult classes from 17 up.

Each group is taught mental discipline as well as the defense art to aid him in controlling both his mind and body, Baptiste explained.

Juniors enrolled in the academy's classes receive a combination of both judo and jujitsu instruction. The throws are the roots of judo, while the arm and wrist holds are functions of jujitsu.

By teaching a combination of both, students learn the sport — judo — and the self-defense, which is jijitsu.

Baptiste explained that he does not accept students who want to learn the arts just to be able to inflict harm.

"We actually have people who stop in and admit that they want to learn the arts so they can defend themselves against the law," the instructor said. "This kind of student we will never take."

THE ROSE BROWN SHOP

For the fresh look of spring here's a dressy elegant ensemble to make you look dazzling whevere you go. Featured at The Rose Brown Shop, this Kim Kory for Kiminetta design, is modeled by Mrs. Ruby Wilkinson who owns the shop with her husband.

Fashioned from cotton brocade and nylon, the coat comes alive in a brown and white block pattern and is highlighted by an unusual back belting and inverted pleat. The dress underneath, is sleeveless and comes in a milk chocolate brown trimmed with matching brocade blocks around the neckline and hem. Available in sizes six through 16, this ensemble is perfect for daytime or evening and The Rose Brown Shop has a wide variety of purses and shoes to complement your outfit. There are a number of ensembles all as attractive as this one and in a variety of look-alive styles. Carmel Plaza on Ocean Avenue. P.O. Box 693, Carmel.

CROSSROADS

A 300-year old English chest fashioned from rich oak and exquisite in its beauty and design and a pair of English Hall & Castle mahogany chairs are but a few of the quality antique items featured at the Crossroads.

The original English prints above the chest are two of a set of Fore prints by J. F. Herring Sr. and date back to the 1850's. The English teakettle and candlesticks sitting on top of the chest are all made of brass and are antiques that would enhance any room. Crssroads, specializers in English and French antiques, also carry contemporary European paintings, and antique oriental artifacts. Lower Carmel Plaza, Ocean Ave. P.O. Box M. Carmel.

CARMEL CLOCK CHALET

Whether it's big or small, short or tall, the Carmel Clock Chalet can make your clock run accurately again. Mr. Alan W. Davis, owner of the shop, studied under a German master and has been in the clock business for the past 25 years being well qualified to fix any of your watches or clocks that may not be working correctly.

Mr. Davis can also make clocks to order for those who want a special type of time device. He also makes house calls for people who may find it impossible to bring their clock in.

Having been in business in Carmel for the past five years Mr. Davis can offer the answer for all your clock problems. Open from 11:00 to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday and Saturday by appointment. Mission & 8th in the Sunset Terrace. P.O. Box 5638, Carmel.

CARMEL FASHION STUDIO

For the woman who wants to appear her loveliest here is a picture of an after five cocktail creation, designed by Fredrica of the Carmel Fashion Studio. Made of imported silk moire this is one of the show-catching designs by Fredrica that was recently shown at a fashion show at the Outrigger. The Russian cossack coat is made of velvet and highlighted by a jeweled color.

Underneath a plunging neckline and sweeping low back reveal a halter type jump suit, set off by a jeweled belt. Imported ostrich boat feathers accent the cuffs of the coat and the hem of the pants.

Fredrica is also a specialist in dressmaking and tailoring. Sunset Terrace, Mission & 8th. P.O. Box 3178, Carmel.

CARMEL VALLEY ART & FRAMING

Carmel Valley Art & Framing specializes in custom-framing, with mouldings from Austria, Belgium and Spain. Mr. Harry Timmins, owner of the shop, does all the custom-framing in his own studio. In addition Carmel Valley Art & Framing also does stock framing and is featuring a selection of hand-carved Italian miniature frames in a variety of shapes and trimmed in golf leaf.

A few of the other outstanding materials they carry are the design MARKettes, permanent ink markers that are available in a range of 48 colors and a fine selection of domestic and imported watercolor paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Timmins invite inquiries on any materials and will special order any they do not carry. Valley Hills Shopping Center, Carmel Valley Road. Telephone: 624-4304. P.O. Box 701A, Carmel.

ANYTHING GOES

Humphrey Bogart is dressed for spring but just doesn't look as feminine as the "lass" who will wear this lively creation. A Della Junior petite this outfit is available at Anything Goes, in sizes five through 11. Made of polyester cotton and machine washable and drip-dry, this dress sells for $16.00. There are a variety of other styles also by Della ranging from $16.00 to $23.00.

HAND HOOKED RUG — One of the many which will be for sale at the RLS Spring Bazaar is admired by Mrs. Donnan Jeffers and Mrs. David H. Keystone.

Annual Spring Bazaar at RLS

Saturday, March 8, the Sponsors Club of Robert Louis Stevenson School will hold its annual spring bazaar in Reed Hall on the RLS grounds in Pebble Beach. In addition to the traditional booths, famous for home made cakes, candies and pantry shelf treats, many unique and delightful articles will be for sale. Fresh produce and planted garden ornaments; handmade quilts and hand hooked rugs are an addition to the creative talents at the boutique shop.

For the collectors there will be treasures galore at the book corner, the white elephant and antique booths.

High spots of the fair will be the auction which has, among other items, 2 beautiful oriental rugs, and a raffle with many valuable prizes.

The students of RLS will provide games and lunch for you, so make a date for the spring bazaar at Robert Louis Stevenson School on March 8, beginning at 11.00 a.m.

Everyone is invited and there is no charge anyplace along the way from whereever you are to the bazaar. Please come and join in the fun.

Carmel Visitor

A distinguished visitor in Carmel is artist, Mrs. Arthur J. (Elizabeth) Lochrie, mother of our own Betty Lochrie Hoag, research director at the Carmel Museum of Art, who, with Betty's father, is escaping the Montana winter.

Mrs. Lochrie, who has lived among the Blackfeet Indians, was the first woman artist to show her paintings at the Gertrude Whitney Gallery of Western Art in Cody, Wyoming.

A noted lecturer, she likes to talk about the Indians, the subjects of most of her paintings which hang in libraries and galleries all over the country and in the U.S. Treasury Department in Washington.

Betty has had another houseguest, her son Robert recently returned from his tour of duty on the Navy ship Providence. He is resuming his studies at Santa Monica Junior College.

Mid-Lent Costume Dinner Dance

There is much excitement for members and friends of the Alliance Francaise of the Monterey Peninsula over this year's Mi-Careme (Mid Lent) costume dinner dance which will take place at the Casa Munras in Monterey on Thursday, March 13. A no-host cocktail hour will start at 6:30 p.m., followed by a gourmet dinner served at 7:30 p.m.

Many prizes will be awarded, one of which is the modern beautiful book "La Cuisine Francaise" by Mapie, la comtesse de Toulouse-Lautrec. There will also be French champagne and fine wines for the winners.

The categories which the judges will decide upon are for the most outstandingly original; the most amusing; the most imaginative and a special prize for a couple or group. Anyone wearing a national costume with the most flair will be rewarded. Then there is the Jury's Special Choice regardless of category which in their opinion is the most striking.

The distinguished jury will consist of Mr. Fulton Freeman, retired ambassador plenipotentiary; Mr. Jack Dougherty; Dr. Harry Lusignan; Mrs. Hans Von Richter and Count Bertrand d'Avenas.

Part of the proceeds of this popular annual event will go to the local Alliance's Scholarship Fund of which Mrs. Jehanne Salinger-Carlson is the head.

Co-presidents of the Monterey Peninsula Alliance Mrs. James Hathaway and Mrs. Sean Flavin will be glad to furnish information about the costume ball. Mrs. Hathaway may be contacted at 372-1138 and Mrs. Flavin at 373-3978.

Mrs. Henri Corbat is ticket chairman and may be reached either at 624-5634 or 624-5621. No tickets will be sold at the Casa Munras or on the evening of the ball. Reservations should be made as promptly as possible since space is limited.

Panel On Creativity at River School

"Educating for Creativity" will be the topic of a panel discussion on Tuesday, Mar. 11, at 7:30 p.m., at Carmel River School Multi-purpose room.

Dr. George Faul, president of Monterey Peninsula College, Michael Murphy, president and founder of Esalen Institute, Dr. Harris Taylor, Superintendent, Carmel School District, James Peter Cost, artist and former teacher, and Dr. Hilton Bialek, Research Psychologist will participate in the panel. Dr. James Halcomb, Associate Superintendent for Instruction, Carmel School District, will act as moderator.

The following questions will be discussed: What is creativity? Do we really want our children to be creative? If you had the power to change the nature of the public schools, what changes would you make?

Reservations are required. Please call River School office, 624-4609.

Barbara Jeanne Pearson

Betrothal of Barbara Jeanne Pearson To Richard Thomas Announced

Dr. and Mrs. Charles N. Pearson of Carmel announce the engagement of their daughter Barbara Jeanne to Richard Alan Thomas of Saratoga.

The young couple plan an April wedding at the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula.

A 1966 graduate of Carmel High School, Barbara Jeanne is in her junior year at San Jose State College where she is majoring in art history. She is the sister of Charles Pearson, Jr.

Richard is the son of Col. and Mrs. Richard Thomas of Saratoga, former residents of Carmel. Dick was a 1965 graduate of Carmel High School and attended Fresno State College before enlisting in the U. S. Army. He is currently stationed at Ft. Bragg, North Carolina.

Lilian Brewer Engagement Announced

An informal party on Valentine's day was the occasion for the announcement of the engagement of Lilian May Brewer to Kenneth Earl Carroll. Lilian is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar F. Brewer of Carmel.

The wedding will take place in the first week in October.

Lilian has attended all the schools in Carmel including Sunset. She has grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Victorine, in Pacific Grove.

Kenneth is the son of Mrs. Ann R. Fields of Seaside. He has two brothers, Tommy Carroll and Joseph Field.

He is a graduate of Monterey High and MPC.

RAIN OR SHINE — The models for the Monterey Peninsula Symphony Guilds' Symphonie d'Elegance luncheon and fashion show are planning a collection of Spring fashions to please their guests. The Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club will open its doors Tuesday, March 11 at twelve o'clock to welcome the friends of the Guild. To top off the afternoon, local merchants and Symphony supporters have donated such prizes as eight Lansdowne prints, a beautiful silver tray from Holman's and Jeannette Lewis is offering an etching, and there are many more! Reservations may be telephoned to Mrs. James Moore at 624-1183. Models pictured are Mrs. Kenneth Gardner, Mrs. Basil Coleman and Mrs. George McMahan.

'Symphonie d'Elegance' Spring Fashion Show Luncheon

Spring flowers and fashions will welcome the season when the Monterey Peninsula chapter of the Symphony Guild presents the I. Magnin Fashion Show. It will be a luncheon at 12 o'clock at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club on Tuesday, Mar. 11.

Miss Gisele MacKenzie of radio and television fame will be commentator, and models, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Jack Stein will include Mesdames George McMahon, Monte Harrington, William Ballard, Basil Coleman, Sigurd Liseth, Lynn Cox, Janice Jones, James Glaser, Jr., Gerald Shaw, Daniel Gornel, Ray March, Kenneth Gardner, Jack Stein and Miss Valerie Scott.

Mrs. Harrington is general chairman of this event. Decorations chairman is Mrs. Robert R. Robertson; programs, Mrs. Roderick Dewar; and food, Mrs. Thomas Roper.

Prizes donated by local businesses and individuals consist of jewelry, paintings, dinners for two or four, perfumes and other valuable gifts. They were secured by Mrs. Blair Hackney and her committee, Mesdames Kenneth McNaughton, Kenneth Dyer, Miriam Godwin and James C. Doud.

Tickets may be reserved or purchased from Mrs. James Moore, Box 5674, Carmel, or by phoning 624-1183. Mrs. Cecil Barker is president of the Symphony Guild.

Czech Nonet Plays To Large Audience

A large audience of college students and older devotees of chamber music filled the MPC Music Hall last week to hear the Czech Nonet which consisted of four stringed instruments and five wind instruments.

The program began with the entire group playing a contemporary piece by a Czech composer Martinu in which the crisp, closely woven sounds were an entirely new experience.

A quintet by Prokofiev, said to be inspired by the atmosphere of the circus, followed in which the music had that rough, wild quality we associate with some of Moussorgsky's music. In one movement the theme of the bass viol seemed to resemble the awarkward steps of a dancing bear.

The Beethoven Septet, Opus 20, for strings, clarinet, bassoon and French horn completed the program. In this delicacy combined with controlled dynamics for an artistic performance.

The audience was delighted hear an encore by another young Czech composer, Jiri Jaroch, a movement from his Children's Suite. M.H.

Grim care, moroseness, anxiety - all the rust of life ought to be scoured off by the oil of mirth. It is better than emery.

Choral Society Performs With Organ and Brass

The strikingly modern First Methodist Church in Pacific Grove, with Monarch butterfly motif in the stained glass behind the altar, and tall pines visible on all sides, was the background for the third annual Festival of Renaissance Music by the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society last weekend.

Th church was entirely filled on Sunday afternoon, in contrast with the reported turnout of the night before.

Following the opening Fantasia by Sweelinck on the organ by Kenneth Ahrens, the program gradually increased in difficulty from a four-part men's chorus by Nascus, a five-part women's chorus by Gallus in which the voices were light and airy, through a six-part chorus from "The Seven Psalms of Penitence" by Andrea Gabrieli in which there were fascinating changes of rhythm.

Broken by the brass ensemble playing a sonata by Giovanni Gabrieli, which some found too loud, but which was exciting, nevertheless, the first part ended with a fanfare and chorus, "O dearest Lord" by Buxtehude, in which the chorus in slow sustained phrases provided a rich foil for the fast tempoed work of the trumpets and trombones.

Again Kenneth Ahrens pleased the audience with Sweelinck's Echo Fantasia.

Under the firm leadership of Haymo Taeuber, the chorus produced some beautiful crescendos and decrescendos in a piece Geborn ist uns Emmanuel by Praetorius, in which the words were clearly enunciated.

Some songs by the madrigal group were followed by another Sweelinck piece for organ called Variations on "My young life comes to its end" which was far from being as lugubrious as its title would indicate.

The stirring 150th Psalm by Heinrich Schultz for double chorus, brass ensemble and organ, ended the program. A portion of this was repeated for the enthusiastic audience.

It seems a pity that the dedicated choristers who make up the Choral Society have to pay $13 a year for the privilege of giving others pleasure. M. H.

Arts Council Meets at Jolly Rogue

The Arts Coordinating Council luncheon at the Jolly Rogue last week was very well attended with presidents and representatives of all the organization on the Peninsula in the field of music, art, education and the theater on hand, some 50 people.

In the absence of Leonard Klene, president, Mrs. Rody Holt of Carmel led the meeting and introduced all present.

In order ot avoid conflicting dates, member organizations were urged to check with Eleanor Melvin, executive secretary, at 624-5560 before deciding on a date.

Memberships, both organization and individual, were invited and possible donors reminded that donations are tax deductible.

Carmel Concert Trio

The Carmel Concert Trio composed of Raymond Fabrizio on flute, Gilbert Boyer at the piano and Rosario Mazzeo on the clarinet will play at San Jose City College Theatre in San Jose on Sunday, Mar. 9 at 3 p.m.

Dance Quartet Colorful and Amusing

Supreme grace, color and variety characterized the offerings of the Chamber Dance Quartet, contemporary ballet group, who performed for those fortunate enough to have Monterey Peninsula Concert Association season tickets on Saturday evening.

The music, faithfully reproduced and amplified so that it sounded as though it was being played right there in the Pacific Grove Junior High Auditorium, was chosen from the finest stereophonic recordings.

The quartet is composed of two women, Lois Bewley and Janice Groman, and two men, Charles Bennett and Bill Carter. While their dancing is based on classical ballet with all the disciplined technique which that implies, they employ personal "free style" movement arrived at by each choreographer.

Following a group of German dances with music by Mozart and Beethoven, came a flaming Flamenco dance by William Carter in which his arm gestures, his red blouse, the way he held his head and back, and the heel work of his black boots evoked all the excitement of the Spanish bull fight.

Completely enchanting was the ballet inspired by the Variation on a Theme of Corelli by Tartini. Lois Bewley, the choreographer, and Janice Groman, in flowing Grecian costumes, brought to life the graceful figures on a Grecian urn or a Wedgewood vase, and achieved a flow of total expression.

Charles Bennett was included in the rather stately renaissance piece in which the women of the quartet were dressed in long velvet gowns. The Concerto in G major by Telemann for Viola and Strings was particularly fine to listen to.

Then came Wind at Dusk which opened with a bride and groom, dressed in contemporary bridal clothes, attended only by a woman in black. The couple, Charles Bennett, the choreographer, and Janice Groman, danced ecstatically together before he lifted her over the threshold of their home.

After falling asleep the light came on to disclose the woman in black, Lois Bewley, now in dark green, dancing provocatively with the young husband, to the evident consternation of the wife. After a blackout, the bridal couple reappeared, and the audience wondered whether the woman in black was a first wife or the product of a jealous imagination.

Very unusual and amusing was the dance illustrating some of the weird sounds of electronic music by Edgar Varese. In this the two male dancers in white tee shirts and black tights did an acrobatic piece in which they had all sorts of fun with Miss Bewley, choreographer of the dance.

The evening ended with a set of completely delightful country dances in early American costumes, based on folk songs composed and sung by Buffy St. Marie.

Besides all the Carmel regulars and other Peninsula concert goers, Elmarie Dyke was present wearing the musical pin presented her on the 25th anniversary of her founding the concert association.

Memberships are now available for the 1969-70 season by calling 375-3544.

Coop Nursery Schools Hold Open House

The co-operative nursery schools of the Monterey Peninsula have been holding open house during National Nursery Education Week, March 2 to 8. These parent-participating preschools offer the parents an opportunity to learn along with their children through active participation in the daily program and through educational meetings. They require an investment of time rather than money and the results of this investment will be on display at the open houses.

Carmel Parent Nursery School, at the Bay School ("The little red schoolhouse) three miles south of Carmel on Highway One will welcome visitors during regular school hours, daily from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. as will Carmel Valley Parent Nursery School on Village Drive.

Delta Gamma Alumnae Founders' Luncheon

The La Playa Hotel will be the setting for the Delta Gamme Alumnae Founders' Day luncheon to be held on Saturday, Mar. 15 at 1 p.m. A social hour will begin at noon.

Delta Gammas new to the area are cordially invited to join the others and may find out about reservations by calling Mrs. William Ballard, 624-8134 or Mrs. Oscar Maddeus, 624-9586 before Mar. 12.

OPEN HOUSE – SUNDAY, MAR. 9 – 1-4 P.M.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect."

These words from Psalms will be read this Sunday as part of the Christian Science Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Man."

Among related passages to be read from the denominational textbook is the following: "God expresses in man the infinite idea forever developing itself, broadening and rising higher and higher from a boundless basis. Mind manifests all that exists in the infinitude of Truth. We know no more of man as the true divine image and likeness, than we know of God" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

Wayfarer Dinner Features Tokyo School Counselor

Mrs. Lela E. Findley of Bakersfield will speak on her experiences as director of guidance at the American School in Tokyo during an all-church dinner Friday evening, Mar. 7 at the Church of the Wayfarer. The dinner is an annual event under the sponsorship of the Commission on Missions of the church.

Mrs. Findley, now psychologist for the city school district at Bakersfield, spent from 1965 to 1967 in Japan. The American School in Tokyo is attended by the children of missionaries, foreign business men and embassies, providing instruction by English speaking teachers.

While in Tokyo Mrs. Findley did graduate work in religion, art and politics at the International Christian University. She also taught English to Japanese students in a program sponsored by the U. S. State Department.

Black History In Lenten Discussion

Major James C. Taylor, (USA ret) continued his presentation of the "History of the Negro in America" during the 10 a.m. Lenten Discussion Forum in the Parish Hall at All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Major Taylor is a new instructor in political science at Monterey Peninsula College.

It came as a surprise to most of those present to hear that representation of Negroes in Southern state legislatures and in the Congress of the United States was far greater following the Civil War than it is now.

He compared the lack of enforcement of some of the liberating laws of that time with the lack of enforcement of desegregation laws today.

A distinguished member of the congregation, Stanley Pearce, made an eloquent plea for a "loving" solution to racial problems of the day.

Jehovah's Witnesses Meet

Two local men have been named heads of departments for the semi-annual circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, slated for Mar. 21-23 at Santa Clara County Fairgrounds.

Among 22 departments comprising the assembly's organizational structure, Bill Lange of Carmel heads Immersion, and Francis Goetz of Palo Colorado Canyon, Public Relations. Mr. Goetz is minister of the Pacific Grove congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Suicide Prevention Center Serves Emergency Outlet Role in County

By Charles M. Strosnider

"This is Elizabeth. May I help you?"

"Oh God, I hope so!"

These two lines are so typical of the calls received by the Suicide Prevention Center of Monterey County.

The center has an average of two calls of this type every day, 365 days a year, and the rate is constantly going up as more people become aware of the existence of the center.

No call is discounted. Eight of 10 suicides give definite warnings of their intentions, and equally important, the crisis is not over soon.

Most suicides occur within three months of the beginning of "Improvement."

Suicide now ranks among the first 10 in the list of adult killers in the United States.

In some states it is as high as sixth. In the age group 15-25 it is as high as the third cause of death.

Pacific Coast States have the highest suicide rate in the nation — with California first. For several years, suicides in Los Angeles County have exceeded traffic deaths.

Of them all, San Francisco ranks first in suicides, Sacramento second and Monterey County third!

Monterey County, over the past three years, has had a suicide rate of 43 per 100,000 population, almost double the national average of 24.

Deeply concerned by the general lack of psychiatric help and facilities available in the county — and suicide prevention in particular — John Hickey, psychiatric social worker, and three county directors of community services for the California Department of Social Welfare, and Barbara Pearman, psychologist, made all the investigations and, after a year of intensive effort, opened the Monterey County Suicide Prevention Center in 1968.

Mrs. Arthur McEaen, psychiatric nurse, joined them early in their endeavors and is director of the center.

Mrs. Elizabeth Corr is director of operations. Retiring after 18 years as headmistress of a college preparatory school, she found a consuming interest in the center.

Mrs. Kim Canavarro is director of training and recruiting of volunteers. And, of course, John Hickey is director and professional consultant.

Immediately behind these shock troops and the volunteers stand an impressive array of agencies and individuals to give care, aid and assistance to those who call for help.

First, the Suicide Prevention Center is associated with the Monterey County Association for Mental Health. No funds are provided by any agency except the county Mental Health Association which underwrites the bare and basic expenses of operation, in exchange for certain services provided by the center.

All police departments, sheriff's department and the Highway Patrol; the County Hospital; all county and city health and welfare agencies; churches and individual ministers; a number of doctors, psychiatrists and psychologists as well as individuals with special knowledge and training, stand by on call.

Realizing that emergency care is only the beginning, the Resources Book lists aid available to help correct the basic problems which gave rise to the crisis. Herein are sources of aid for the physically handicapped, recreational opportunities for the older, single, lonely person—that group with the highest incidence of suicide, family counseling, financial and legal problems, sexual problems, employment, etc.

If the volunteer on duty can get the caller over the moment of crisis only temporarily, others are ready on an emergency basis to help.

What you can do is only on a local level. If you feel competent, call Mrs. Elizabeth Corr or Mrs. Kim Canavarro at the Suicide Prevention Center 624-1415.

'Pilgrims To Pop' MPMAA Series

The Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association will present the first series in its 1969 lecture schedule on the four successive Wednesday evenings of March.

The lecturer will be William F. Stone, Jr., Carmel High School art instructor, who has chosen Art in America as his subject.

Sub-titled "From Pilgrims to Pop," the sessions will deal with art and artists in the United States for 200 years.

Roughly subdivided into 50 year spans, the first evening covered the year from the founding of our Republic to the westward expansion, the second will continue on to 1900, while the third and fourth will extend from 1900 to the present, including the Ash Can School, Abstract-Expressionism, and the current Op and Pop phases.

Stone received his B.A. from the University of California at Berkeley, and took his teacher's training at San Jose State College. He also attended the School of Medical Illustration in Boston, served as an illustrator at both the Stanford and Cal Medical Schools, and has published a number of medical and scientific bulletins.

The lectures will be held at the Monterey Peninsula Museum, located on Lincoln St., ½ block south of Ocean in Carmel. The dates are Mar. 5, 12, 19, and 26, and each lecture will begin at 7:30 p.m. A nominal charge will be made for the series, $2.00 for Museum Association members and $3.00 for non-members. As space is limited, all who are interested in attending are asked to call the Museum, 624-2918, for reservations.

Also on the Museum's Art Education agenda, and scheduled for presentation this Fall, will be a 10-week comprehensive art history series to be given by Clarence Bates, well-known Carmel artist and teacher. A two-part introduction to this series will be given in May, specific dates to be announced later.

Strauss Opera On KSCO Mar. 8

Richard Strauss's opera, "Die Frau Ohne Schatten" (Woman Without a Shadow), will be broadcast over the Texaco-Metropolitan Opera Radio Network on Saturday, March 8, starting at 11 a.m. on KSCO 1080 kc and KSCO-FM, 99.1 mc.

Singing leading roles will be soprano Leonie Rysanek as the Empress, mezzo-soprano Christa Ludwig as the Dyer's Wife, mezzo-soprano Irene Dalis as the Nurse, tenor James King as the Emperor, baritone Walter Berry as Barak the Dyer, and baritone William Dooley as the Messenger of Keikobad. Karl Boehm will conduct.

During the first intermission "Opera News on the Air," Boris Goldovsky, the noted musicologist and opera authority, will give an illuminating analysis of the Strauss opera, with musical illustrations on the piano.

DESERT DENIZEN — Although this bright-eyed little creature is called a kangaroo rat, biologically it is most closely allied with the pocket mouse of our western states. Bounding along on its hind legs, it does indeed resemble a miniature kangaroo, and is one of the animals shown in Kent Durden's Audubon Wildlife Film," Death Valley — Land of Contrast."

Audubon Wildlife Scours Desert

"Death Valley — Land of Contrast," an Audubon Wildlife film, will be presented at 8:00 p.m. on Friday, March 13 at the Pacific Grove Junior High School Auditorium.

The film will be personally narrated by its creator, Mr. Kent Durden.

Death Valley at 282 feet below sea level is the lowest spot in the United States. It is also one of the hottest with ground temperatures often reaching 180° degrees. While this may be a harsh environment, it is far from void of life.

Many of the mammals of this desert region manufacture their own water, and others have learned to go long periods on very small amounts of moisture. The desert makes quick response to rainfall with an array of beautiful flowers. Near permanent waterholes even orchids can be found.

Mr. Durden has spent months photographing the different habitats within the Death Valley National Monument. Among the animals to be seen in the film are the ring-tailed cat and the desert bighorn sheep along with 40 species of birds.

"Clown" by Tatiana

Tatiana's Gallery Features Color

By Louise Cook

Tatiana's upstairs gallery on Lincoln near Ocean is tucked away in an old-world courtyard overlooking Milton Williams' succulent garden and metal workshop. These are appropriate surroundings for the colorful work of this artist.

Miss Koslova chooses an endless variety of subjects, all done in feverish haste and achieving an unstudied effect. Her arrangements of flowers are a riot of color; "Clown" is wistful and appealing. Her "Cities" and harbor scenes have a misty dream like quality with a marvelous feeling of atmosphere, A Chinese pagoda sits suspended in a sea of green leaves and water reflections.

Evidence of three years study with John Cunningham is shown in her clean, fresh colors and feeling of spontaneity.

Tatiana has just returned with fresh inspiration and new ideas after spending five months in Europe.

Community Chest Elects Officers

The Monterey Peninsula Community Chest recently held its annual election and awards dinner meeting at the Holiday Inn, Carmel Valley.

James Wester, 1968 Business Division chairman gratefully acknowledged Carmel business district's results of 110% of quota.

The success of the 1968 campaign must be measured in terms of those who volunteered so much of their time and effort.

Volunteers in the Carmel Business District were: Robert W. Priestley, chairman, Irving Lundborg Co.; Gordon Robertson, Robertson's; Gus Johnson, Bank of America; Wendell Putt, Bank of America; Richard Smith, Bank of America; Getty Fairchild, Enos Fouratt Real Estate.

Henry Corbatt, Swiss Jeweler; Clem Trapkus, Pacific Gas and Electric; Doug Wilhoit, Ross Real Estate; Mervin Sutton, Nielsen Bros. Market; Steve Thigpen, Wells Fargo Bank; William Bremmer, Derek Rayne; Charles Aucutt, San Antonio House Motel; Richard Wilsdon, attorney; Don Nelson, United California Bank; Ray Baker, Raggett's.

Robert Cole, Ocean Avenue Realty; David Hunter, Viking Sails; Les Stegeman, Del Insurance; Jack Clayton, Spencer's; Jacques Van Setter, Pine Inn; Stan Ewig, Ewig's; Robert Bader, Sassoon and Associates.

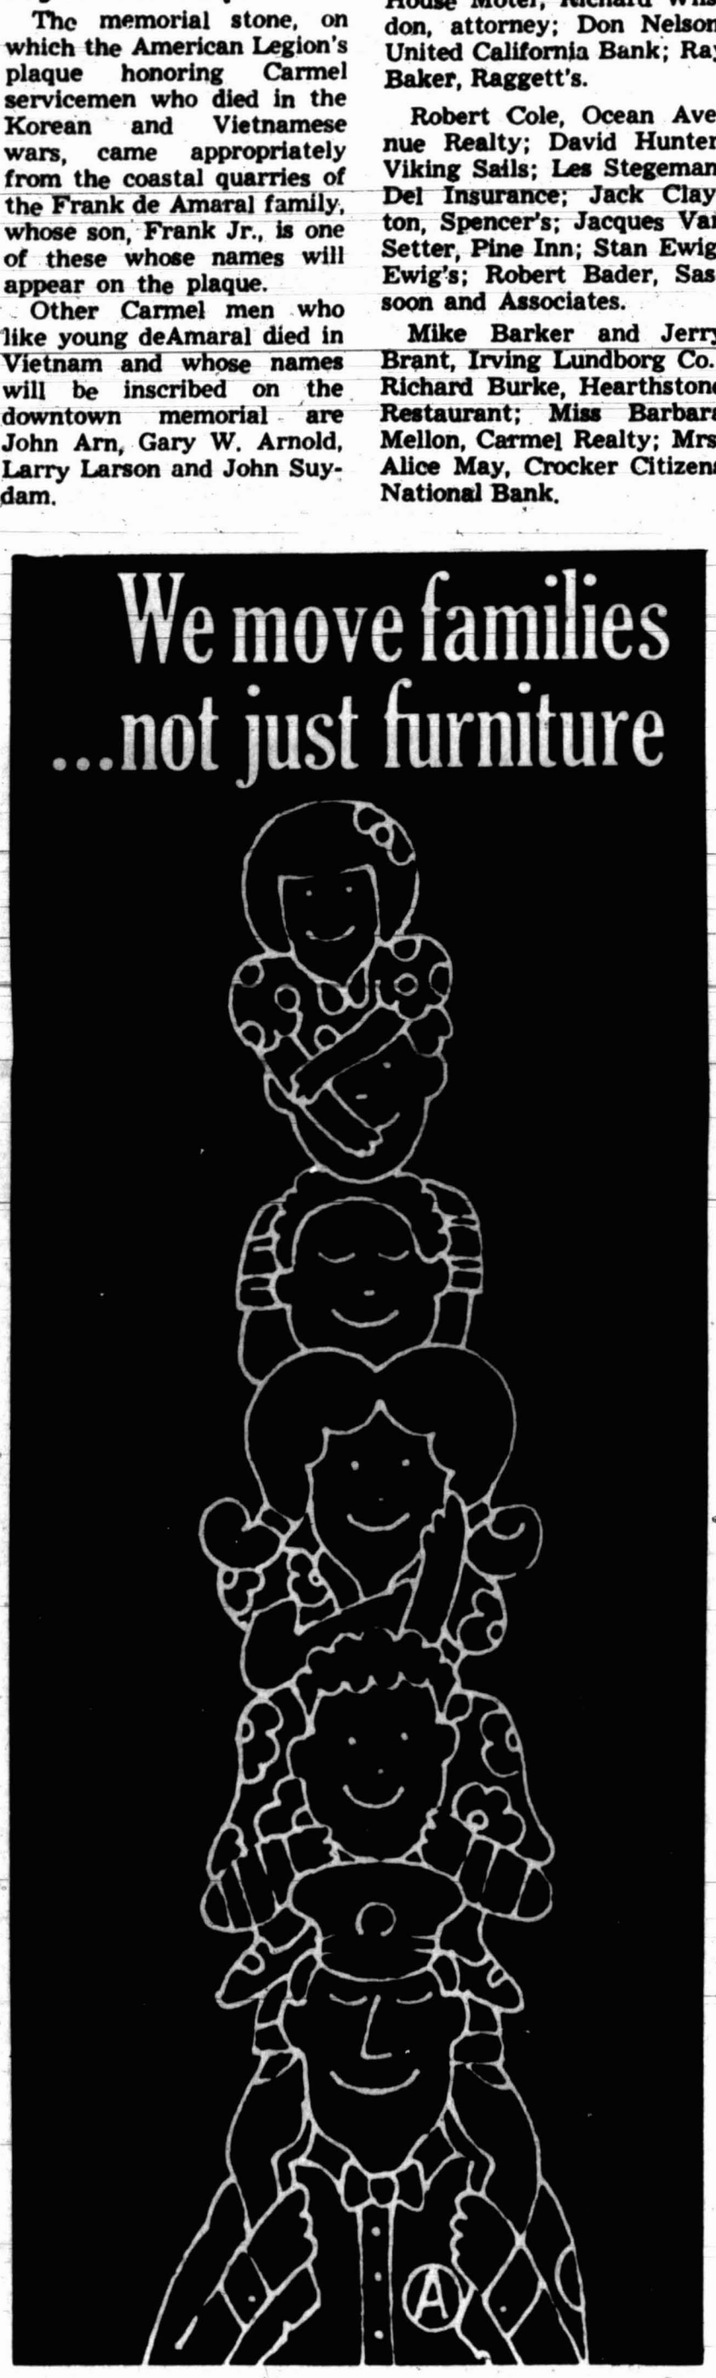

Mike Barker and Jerry Brant, Irving Lundborg Co.; Richard Burke, Hearthstone Restaurant; Miss Barbara Mellon, Carmel Realty; Mrs. Alice May, Crocker Citizens National Bank.

Legion Sets Plaque

The memorial stone, on which the American Legion's plaque honoring Carmel servicemen who died in the Korean and Vietnamese wars, came appropriately from the coastal quarries of the Frank de Amaral family, whose son, Frank Jr., is one of these whose names will appear on the plaque.

Other Carmel men who like young deAmaral died in Vietnam and whose names will be inscribed on the downtown memorial are John Arn, Gary W. Arnold, Larry Larson and John Suydam.

Social Security and You

By Raymond MacDonald

Q. I understand that widows who are disabled can now get benefits on the accounts of their deceased husbands. Is this correct?

A. A widow who us unable to do any gainful work because of a disability may now qualify for benefits at age 50, providing that the disabling condition began not later than 7 years after the death of her husband. She may also qualify if her disabling condition began not later than 7 years after the termination of her benefits as a mother.

Q. I am 25 years old and totally disabled. Last year I inquired about Social Security disability benefits and was told I couldn't qualify because I had worked only 3 years in work covered by Social Security. Can I qualify under the 1967 Amendments?

O. If you became disabled between age 24 and 31, you need credit for only half the time between age 21 and the time you became unable to work. It sounds like you meet the new requirements. You should go to your Social Security office and file an application for disability insurance benefits.

Q. I heard that a worker can receive $218.00 a month under the new Social Security law. I am retired, and have always earned over $7,800. Will I get $218 a month.

A. No. Although you have had substantial earnings, there is a maximum amount of earnings creditable for past years. The $218 benefit will not be payable to a worker for many years yet since $7800 in earnings can be credited only in 1968 or later. For more information on this, contact your nearest Social Security office and ask for pamphlet SSA-1967-1.

(Mail your questions to Social Security, c/o The Carmel Pine Cone, Carmel, or phone Social Security office 373-3351).

The way to wealth is as plain as the way to market; it depends chiefly on two words; industry and frugality.

RED CROSS WORKERS — Volunteer workers for the 1969 American Red Cross fund and membership drive gather at the Carmel chapter house to discuss plans for the month of March, during which these workers will attempt to raise $35,858, largest in the chapter's 53-year history. From left, Mrs. Julian Von Meier, fund drive secretary; Mrs. Marjorie Haller, district 6; O. Lester Erickson, district 5; Mrs. Kenneth Dyer, Carmel residential chairman; Mrs. Catherine Harriman, district 3; Mrs. Wayne Haas, Carmel Point; Albert Molendyk, district A, 1 and Walker Tract; Carvel Baldwin, districts 2, 7, 8 and 12; Carl P. Vetter, Carmel Hills 1; Mrs. Lee Cagwin, Carmel Hills 2.

Local Artists Contribute to Beacon House Annual Auction on Mar. 23

Paintings, sculptures and crafts by outstanding artists of the Monterey Peninsula are being gathered for the 10th annual Beacon House benefit art auction to be held Sunday, Mar. 23, at the Holiday Inn at the mouth of the Carmel Valley.

Arrangements for the event got underway after a meeting of the committee in charge, headed by Dr. Ronald F. Taugher of Monterey, and Mrs. John Shephard of Pebble Beach, co-chairmen.

Others serving on the committee are: Frank Adams, president of the Beacon House Board of Trustees; Mrs. Jane Campbell of Monterey, tickets and posters; Mrs. Theil Hampton of Pacific Grove, cashier; Mrs. Phillips Finlay of Pebble Beach, correspondent; Louis Balsam of Pacific Grove, art coordinator, and Charles MacIntosh, Pebble Beach, publicity.

Principal fund raising effort to support the operation of Beacon House, Pacific Grove recovery center for alcoholics, the auction will offer the works of some 40 well-known artists.

A noon luncheon will precede the auction, which will begin at 2 p.m.

Tickets for the luncheon and auction will be $3.50, while admission to auction only will be $1.50, a tax deductible donation.

Tickets may be obtained at Beacon House, 468 Pine Avenue, Pacific Grove, or by calling 372-2334, as well as from any member of the committee in charge.

There will be a public preview of the art at 7 p.m., Saturday, Mar. 22, at the Holiday Inn. There will be no charge for admission to the preview. Sealed bids for the art on sale will be accepted at this time.

Business Reporter Now Available At Bank of America

Local small businessmen may obtain a helpful guide for obtaining financing through any Bank of America branch.

The latest issue of the bank's Small Business Reporter is devoted to identifying all possible sources of financing.

The report also covers methods of establishing a credit rating; describes the kinds of business ownerships, and poses 11 questions the individual businessman should ask himself in planning the growth of his business.

"Few businessmen do sufficient homework before asking for money," according to the study. "Since every loan application is in competition with other businessmen for the same dollars, the one who is best prepared stands the best chance of getting the money he needs."

The Bank of America report urges the small businessman to look at his proposal from the lender's point of view: "Would you be interested in financing the business on the basis of the information you have prepared?

"You know your business better than either the lender or investor does; he knows finance better than you do. The object is to communicate freely so that you both understand each other."

The report concludes, "The best insurance for getting when you need it is to develop a continuing relationship with potential lenders and investors."

$35,825 Goal In ARC March Fund Drive

Traditionally, March is American Red Cross month.

There will be no exception in 1969.

During March, the Carmel chapter of ARC will attempt to raise $35,858, the largest in the 53-year history of the chapter.

Jack Martin, member of the board of directors of the chapter, is 1969 chairman for the campaign for members and funds.

"The budget committee, consisting of Miss Helen Heavey, August H. Johnson, Carl Bosholm, F. Douglas Tellwright and Carl Vetter, spent many hours of study on the financial needs of the chapter," Martin said.

"The total comes to $26,250, and the remaining $9,608 will go to the national organization. I had never looked into this carefully and was surprised to learn what is done with this large portion of our goal.

"I just had not realized that all those Red Cross workers with our troops overseas in the field and hospitals and on all military installations in the U. S. are supported by what we and other chapters contribute, as well as all services to disaster victims and relief to others throughout the world who are victims of disasters and conflicts. The blood research carried on in the two National Red Cross laboratories is also supported from these funds.

"Purchase of our three ambulances came from locally contributed funds, a fact some people tend to forget," pointed out Martin. "This wonderful service to our communities of Carmel, Carmel Valley and Big Sur will continue as long, and only as long, as the contributors indicate that they appreciate and support it.

"The regular services of the Red Cross: the blood program, services to the military, disaster preparedness, first aid and water safety all must come first. We believe the community wants and needs all these services and will continue to support them as it has during the past 53 years.

"We have never failed to make our goal and appeal now to all the residents in the chapter jurisdiction for another vote of confidence and their generous support in attaining our goal in 1969."

Del Monte Lodge Cited

Del Monte Lodge was one of only 23 hotels, motels and resorts throughout the country to receive five-star rating in the authoritative 1969 Mobil Travel Guide.

The Lodge has been awarded this rating each edition since 1961. The new edition of the national guidebook, containing more than 23,000 listings including 5,300 restaurants, goes on sale in May at book stores and Mobil stations.

Bugs Bunny In PG&E Kite Booklet

Before you can say "Ynnub Sgub" two quick kite safety rules are reeled off in the 1969 edition of Pacific Gas and Electric Company's kite fun booklet.

"Ynnub Sgub," as Bugs Bunny himself points out, is his name spelled backward.

Six other safety rules follow in the pages of the booklet as Bugs, the "cwazy wabbit" runs into his nemesis, Elmer Fudd, whom he gets to build a kite for little Cicero, the pig.

Like preceding kite safety booklets, this year's edition is both educational and entertaining for youngsters or their parents who may aid them in building their kites.

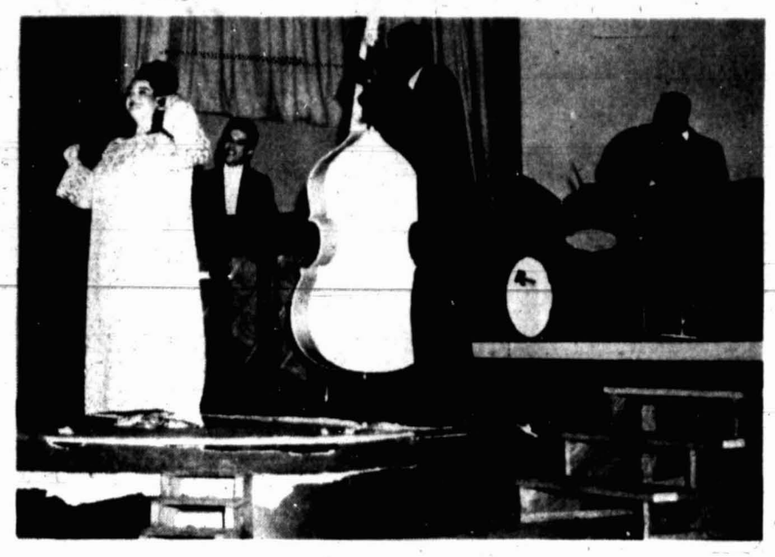

The comic book story and kite-making layouts are supplemented by puzzle and game features of interest to boys and girls.

The full-color booklet is available free at all PG&E offices. Copies may be obtained in quantity by school or youth groups.

For the safety of young kite flyers these rules are emphasized in the booklet:

1. Never fly a kite near a radio or TV antenna.
2. Never cross a street or highway while flying a kite.
3. Never fly a kite with metal in the frame or in the tail.
4. Never use tinsel string or wire or any twine with metal in it.
5. Never fly a kite near electric power lines.
6. Never fly a kite in the rain.
7. Never pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a snagged kite.
8. Never touch a fallen electric wire.

Needless to say, it's impossible to fly a soggy kite, so wait until the rain stops before trying.

NOT EXACTLY THE STORK CLUB — The scene is the Barn Theater at the Hunter Liggett Military Reservation near King City. The troops were members of the Combat Developments Command Experimentation Command. The entertainers were Sioux Scott of Carmel and Jerry Winters of Pebble Beach. The put just as much zing into their act as they would have at the Outrigger on Cannery Row, where they work nightly. Or the Stork Club. Or 21. Or anywhere else. The two have just returned from a tour of the Far East, including Vietnam. Helping out was CWO William E. Jackson of the Fort Ord Army Band on drums and retired Sergeant J. J. Jones on bass.

Christian Science Radio Program

"Making Sound Judgments" is the title of the Christian Science radio program to be heard over station KGO at 7:15, KRML at 7:45 and KDON, at 8:45 on Sunday, Mar. 9. It is part of "The Bible Speaks to You" series. This program compares one's ability to make right decisions with one's ability and desire to understand and love God and man.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Of Rice and Men"

Who can better coordinate fine food, clever conversation, dramatic setting and congenial guests than the Jerome Carlsons of Carmel?

The Carlsons usually occupy the amazing studio-home of their lifelong friends the Ansel Adams when the famed artist - photographer is on tour.

Almost in space is the spectacular Carmel Highlands house, seemingly built into an outsize granite hill with overhanging cliffs!

How cheerful is the baronial fireplace, glowing with huge logs while we sip aperitifs. Then the Great Gong booms, with an echoing drum, to announce "diner est servi!" Our hostess serves a charming French Sunday "souper en famille".

Jehanne Salinger-Carlson (president of the local Alliance Francaise for the past five years) keeps the table talk going at a fast clip. An erudite discussion transpires between Nikolas Radovich of Yugoslavia and Nelo Drizari from Albania (B.C. . . . Before Communism) . . . and now Carmel bachelors.

Jehanne listens with interest. Germaine Olivie is pleased that her native Brussels has a key part in today's European plans. Phyllis Jervey wonders when she can inquire: "What do men prefer to eat?" So in the middle of this high-level exchange of ideas, she asks her host "What was your favorite dish during your recent three months in Hawaii?

Jerry Carlson answers right off: "Rice." "Which kind?" persists "Mrs. Party Plans." "Well, we liked Japanese food mostly over in the Islands." So here is

Jerry's Choice

Sake cha-zuke (Japanese Rice)

One large can best salmon; 3 T. rice wine (sake) or dry sherry; 2 T. soy sauce; 3 T. sesame seeds; 3 cups hot cookd rice; 3 cups hot green tea. Serves 6.

Parch sesame seeds in dry skillet until they begin to jump. Chop them fine in food chopper. Remove skin and bones from salmon. Combine with wine and soy sauce in skillet. Cover and simmer until liquid is almost gone. Fresh poached salmon (now in season) may be used but do not overcook or crush, leave as whole as possible.

Divide the hot rice and salmon into six Far Eastern bowls. Sprinkle each with parched seeds. Pour half a cup of hot green tea (made in porcelain tea pot) over each and cover with own lids. Japanese porcelain rice-pattern bowls and laqueur ones with matching spoons are plentiful in Carmel's Oriental shops.

Nelo Drizari, author of many books and now working on his — autobiography "Albanian Boy on Horseback," prefers rice as prepared in his native land.

Mish me Bamje Pilaff

Three lbs. shoulder of lamb; 3 onions, sliced; 4 T. olive oil; 3 tomatoes; peeled and sliced; 1 t. salt; 3 cups consomme; 1 lb. fresh small okra; 2 T. fresh chopped mint.

Cut meat into 6 portions. Remove most of fat but not bones. Brown in oil with onions. Add tomatoes and cook 5 minutes. Add salt and liquid. Simmer until meat is tender. Add more liquid as needed. Clean and wash okra; if out of season, the frozen may be used. Cook briefly so okra is still green. Sprinkle with fresh mint or dehydrated mint flakes soaked in a little water. Always serve with

Rice Pilaff

Three T. olive oil; 1 cup brown rice; 2½ cups bouillon; 2 T. minced onions; 2 t. grated orange peel; 3 t. toasted slivered almonds or pine nuts.

Saute rice lightly in oil. Add onions and orange peel to bouillon. Put rice in casserole; pour seasoned liquid over same. Cover and bake in 350 oven about 30 minutes, or until rice is just done but flaky and stock absorbed. Fluff rice with fork and sprinkle top with nuts. Serve hot from casserole at table. Serves 6.

Nikolas Radovich enjoys the native foods of his homeland and is especially fond of rice. The following is nostalgic for him but can so easily become reality in Carmel.

Yugoslavian Djuvece

Four large onions, sliced; 2 T. lard (Crisco), 4 tomatoes, sliced; 2 green peppers, seeded; 1 bayleaf; 4 peppercorns; 2 small eggplant, peeled and sliced crosswise in ½ in. pieces; 1 t., each, dill and fennel, pulverized; 2 cups white rice; 4 cups tomato juice; 6 large thick meaty pork chops; salt, pepper and paprika to taste. Sweet paprika is much used in the Balkan countries.

Brown onions in lard. Put half in greased earthernware baking dish. Add half of tomatoes with sliced green peppers on top. Add remaining fried onions with rest of unpeeled tomato slices on top. Crush bayleaf and add with peppercorns, stirring gently into mixture. Now add sliced eggplant with dill and fennel. Next comes the rice (if using long grain instead of converted rice, wash 4 times in cold water and drain. This is the way it is done in the "old country". Party Plans uses converted, not minute, rice.) The tomato (or V-8, American innovation) juice is poured over all.

Brown the best pork chops you can find until half done in skillet where the onions were fried. Sprinkle the chops with salt and pepper and very finest paprika. Place chops on top; (the casserole must really be large) and cover. Bake in 325-350 F. oven 30 minutes. Uncover and baste, adding white wine if necessary. Cover and bake another 15 minutes. It is wise to taste and see if a little sugar might be added, since the tomato content tends to make this splendid dish a bit acid for some of the uninitiated. Serves 6. A mixed green salad with olive oil and wine vinegar dressing, round crusty bread, broken with one's finger at the table (for what we call "dunking" into all that marvelous sauce), simmered lentils, enriched individually at the table with (guess what?) olive oil, makes this a caloric combination. But delicious.

Sunset Notes

by Dr. James E. Gilman

Harmony at Sunset

There'll be something for everyone at the Sunset Center Theater this month. Among the major attractions booked so far are the annual Barbershop Quartet, the Carmel Music Society concert featuring pianist Raymond Lewenthal, The Explorers Club presentation of "Blue Danube," The Yale University Russian Chorus, and the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra with pianist Dimitri Bashkirov.

The Friends of Photography exhibit is going strong and is attracting good attendance in spite of the rather soggy weather. Their Gravning-Gagliani exhibit is one of the best and is well worth seeing. Hours: daily 1 to 5, except Monday.

Barbershop Quartet

The Peninsula Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBQSA), will hold its Fifteenth Annual barbershop show, "Harmony at Sunset," on Friday and Saturday of this week at 8:30 p.m. at Sunset Theater.

Headliners of the show will be the Up Side Downies Quartet from Downey, Calif. They have just returned from a 17-day tour of Vietnam sponsored by the USO. While in the Pacific they also performed in military hospitals in Korea and Japan.

Other groups to appear in the three hour show are the Old Time Harmony Four from San Jose; the Glad Dads of Santa Rosa, who won the Northern California Barbershop contest last January; the B Sharps from Monterey, and the Monterey Peninsula Chorus.

A special feature of this year's show will be the appearance of the Petit Four, an all-girl barbershop quartet from San Jose.

Dr. Buck Williams, formerly of Monterey, will be the master of ceremonies. Dr.. Joseph Turner of Monterey will appear as guest soloist.

The Monterey Peninsula chapter of the SPEBQSA is one of approximately 700 such groups throughout the country that have banded together to preserve some of the old time harmony that was so prevalent in the 80's and 90's.

The local chapter meets every Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Monterey USO. All men who like to sing and enjoy good fellowship are welcome. No previous musical training or experience is required. Visitors are always welcome.

Tickets are available at the Central Box Office, Mission and 6th (May Court), 624-6739; Abinante Music Store, Monterey, 372-5893; the Thunderbird Book Shop in Carmel Valley; and at the box office before each performance.

Raymond Lewenthal

Raymond Lewenthal, pianist, will appear at Sunset on Friday, March 21 at 8:30 p.m. in the fourth concert of the season sponsored by the Carmel Music Society.

Tickets are available at the Friar Tuck Bookstore, Mission near 6th, Carmel, phone 624-7500.

Blue Danube

The Explorers Club of San Francisco will present "Blue Danube" on March 22 at 8:15 p.m. It will include scenes of Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Aus-Rumania and Bulgaria. Central Box Office and Abinante have tickets.

Yale Russian Chorus

The Yale University Russian Chorus will be at Sunset on March 24 at 8:30 p.m. I'll have more on this next week.

Dimitri Bashkirov

The fourth concert in the current series of the Monterey County Symphony will feature Dimitri Bashkirov, pianist, on March 25 at 8:30 p.m. For reservations call the Symphony Office at Sunset: 624-4125.

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

Would you believe that we have a new book entitled The Day It Rained Forever? This timely book is a combination adventure and science fiction story, written by Robert C. Lee. Professor Heinrich Von Heiner has invented a rainmaking machine, and in order to end a drought which is threatening Central California, he turns on the machine. However, he then becomes ill and no one knows why the rains keep coming. Twelve-year-old Michael Glenn begins to wonder about the mysterious thing which he had seen at the professor's house. More difficulties ensue, as the professor is too ill to answer Mike's questions. Eventually, everything is figured out and a beautiful blue sky is seen and enjoyed by all. If anyone knows Professor Von Heiner, please ask him to turn off the rain machine.

Grimbold's Other World, by Nicholas Gray is an imaginative story, dealing with Muffler, a foundling who is raised by Simon, the farmer and his wife Meg. Grimbold, the black, mysterious cat, first takes Muffler into "the other world" when he needs his help in rescuing Gareth, the sorcerer's son from a spell. The boy, Muffler, learns how to pass through the gap between one world and the other, and he becomes friends with Gareth. In his adventures he goes on a search for an invisible canary, meets dragons and dwarfs, a unicorn, and finally a Queen who has been mourning for 500 years for her lost son. Muffler and Gareth are able to return the prince to his mother, with the help of some magic.

The Story of Prince Ivan, The Firebird and The Gray Wolf is one of Russia's well-known fairy tales, which has been translated by Thomas Whitney. The illustrations are by Nonny Hogrogian, who also did the illustrations for the Caldecott winner, Always Room for One More, by Sorche Nic Leodhas. The drawings for The Story of Prince Ivan are gem-like water colors, which make this a delightful looking picture book.

For those readers who have devoured the Tolkien trilogy, The Lord of The Rings, and Tolkien's ..The Hobbit, we have received another trilogy in the paperbacks, which are shelved in the Children's Room. This new one is by Mervyn Peake and is called The Gormenghast Trilogy. They were written some years ago, but are being enjoyed now by many of the Tolkien enthusiasts. Don't forget to look over our paperback collection.

Letter To Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: Considerable concern is being expressed in the United States today about the increasing monolithic structure of government bureaucracy. This letter from C. C. Moseley, president of the Grand Central Industrial Center in Glendale, Calif., to Senator George Murphy points up one of the major examples of spreading national bureaucracy.

Dear Senator Murphy:

One can be harassed, threatened, fined and imprisoned for refusing to answer any of the questions on the 1970 census form which requires the following categories of information be submitted by every person receiving the long form:

1. Income, dollar by dollar, from all sources including public assistance, alimony, unemployment and disability insurance, pensions, and investments;

2. The value of property or amount of rent paid;

3. Educational, marital, employment and military history;

4. With whom bathroom and kitchen facilities are shared;

5. A long list of household items including dishwasher, television, radios, automobiles, and second home; and

6. Where each person and his parents were born.

The Constitutional intent of the census was originally to enumerate the population for apportionment of the House of Representatives. This goes entirely too far! This is a census and it is none of the government's business who uses my bathroom or kitchen or what my possessions are!

Census reform is needed now, and I urge that you give H. R. 20 your vigorous support.

Sincerely,
C. C. Moseley, President

Winkler to Seaside Office

Neal C. Winkler, assistant vice president with Crocker-Citizens National Bank, has been named manager of the bank's Seaside office. He had served as assistant vice president and assistant manager of the Carmel office since last February.

He succeeds John E. Glaze who was killed in an automobile accident on December 27th.

Winkler and his wife, Betty, live at 111 Riverside Way in Carmel. They have three children.

Following 11 years of business experience in California, Winkler joined Crocker-Citizens in 1959 and entered the bank's administrative training program.

Freeman Speaks On World Affairs

"What Mexico Means to the United States" will be the subject of an address by The Honorable Fulton Freeman, president of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies and former Ambassador to Mexico when he speaks to the World Affairs Council Friday evening, Mar. 7.

This meeting, which is open to the public without charge, will take place at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the MIFS at 440 Van Buren St., Monterey.

The former Ambassador has enjoyed a successful career in the State Department and Foreign Service over the past 30 years. The early period of his service was spent in the Office of Chinese Affairs in the State Department.

He subsequently attended the National War College; served at the Embassy in Rome; as a political advisor to one of the major NATO commands; as Deputy Chief of Mission in Brussels; as Ambassador to Columbia and Mexico.

Rockaby Babies

Two Carmel babies arrived at Community Hospital recently. Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Villarrail became parents of Rosa Maria on Feb. 21. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dudley Baird of 2nd and Mission, became parents of Steven Charles on Feb. 24.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Edwina Pinkham Young, former resident of Carmel during the '30's and sister of Mrs. Paul (Ruth) Clampett of Carmel, died on Feb. 19 in Saratoga. She and her late husband, Charles Winston Young, took an active part in the community. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. John (Jennifer) Taylor, and a granddaughter, Cynthia Anne, both of Saratoga.

Our Men In Service

Aviation Fire Control Technician Airman Jerome Ross Olson, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Olson of Carmel, has graduated from the Aviation Mechanical Fundamentals School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphasi, Tenn.

During the four-week course he studied mathematics, physics, and the principles of electricity. He received instruction in atomic structures, static and dynamic electricity, magnetic theory and the theory and construction of aircraft batteries.

The school provides selected Navy and Marine Corps personnel with the basic knowledge and skills for entrance into the Aviation Machinists Mate and Aviation Structural Mechanic Schools.

Fireman Apprentice Arthur "Jim" Johnson has graduated from the Naval Training Base at San Diego and is now stationed in Groton, Conn., where he will undergo eight weeks of submarine schooling.

Jim Johnson is a 1966 graduate of Carmel High School.

His brother, Air Force Staff Sergeant Dennis L. Johnson has just returned from a two-year tour of duty at Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines. Dennis Johnson and his wife Lorna are presently assigned to McClellan AFB in Sacramento, and he has reenlisted for his fourth tour of duty with the Air Force.

Dennis graduated from Carmel High School in 1954 and elisted in the Air Force the same year.

Both servicemen are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Johnson of Carmel.

Airman Kenneth E. Haff, USN, son of Mrs. Nell Haff of 67 Fisher Dr., Carmel, and Seaman James W. Jaggers, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Jaggers of Route 3, Carmel, are serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ranger off the coast of Vietnam. The Ranger returned to the line after a five-day visit to the British crown colony of Hong Kong.

Ranger crewmembers were able to enjoy sightseeing and shopping in the famous city before the carrier returned to the Gulf of Tonkin to assume its duties in support of U.S. and Allied ground forces in South Vietnam.

Don't fight it.

Let's face it, wet wash is a real monster. Why fight it? Without a dryer you're the victim.

It means that every year you lug 2,000 pounds 40 miles in round trips from house to clothesline. You pinch and unpinch about 10,000 clothespins. And you spend needless hours ironing the press back into permanent press clothes. So why fight it? See your appliance dealer now about a new clothes dryer PG and E

Carmel Travelers

(Mr. and Mrs. John G. Bannister of Orinda have had a summer vacation home in Carmel. They have just returned from South America, and their amusing letters will be carried periodically in the Pine Cone.)

Another bubble burst — apparently the California State flower didn't originate in California after all!

It's interesting to me that Chile is barely 100 miles wide, and yet extends 2,600 miles in length — farther than from Los Angeles to New York.

Santiago is a fascinating city, in that it is surrounded by the Andes Mountains, and has small hills cropping up here and there. On one hill in the center of the city there is a tram which runs up to the top where there is a beautiful statue of the Virgin Mary visible from all parts of the city and lighted at night.

Most all these large South American cities have beautiful race tracks, which we have visited, but unfortunately (or fortunately) they race only on Saturdays and Sundays, and our schedule hasn't made it possible for us to attend a race.

On our city tours, we are always shown the American Embassy Residence, and in Santiago it was a mighty plush layout. Our guide said it cost $275,000, so when the Russians saw it, they went out and bought one for $350,000! Who is trying to impress whom I wonder?

The first golf game for those of us who took the Cuzco-Machu Picchu trip was in Santiago at the Prince of Wales Golf Club. It was a beautiful club, very level golf course, and thousands of trees, (where some of us spent quite a bit of time) — they are beautiful to look at, several hundred different varieties, and many of them flowering, but horrible to get the golf ball out of! ! One note of interest, most of the women golfers here in South America wear slacks to play in. On the street, however, people dress more conservatively than we do.

On Saturday some of the men played golf again, while another group of us took an all-day tour to Vina del Mar and Valparaiso. I'm sure I don't have to tell you which choice Jack made. I took the tour, however, and was so interested to see the countryside — we all agreed it reminded us of California.

Valparaiso is located on a bay and is the sister city to Sausalito in California. This we could understand as we wound up the hill on narrow streets to a point overlooking the bay and the city. I'm sure it is a beautiful sight at night.

Vina del Mar is only 3 miles from Valparaiso and is the Riviera of the country, having a world famous gambling casino. Again we were not on the spot during gambling hours, so to date, the only money I have gambled is the 30c I put in a slot machine in Panama!

We have had the dubious honor of sharing our hotels and airplane trips with Willy Brandt of West Germany. Had we not known that he was on our same plane to Buenos Aires, we would have been sure that the band on the field to greet us was for the Golfing Gauchos! As if Willy isn't enough, we now have Robert McNamara sharing the scene with us!

One of the well-known South American jewelry stores gives each lady a silver charm in each major city, and when she arrives in Rio, she is given the bracelet, and all the charms are put on. Needless to day, STERN'S is the first port of call for each gaucho! We now have 3 charms and will end up with 6 altogether. Jack gets a little more nervous with each succeeding visit to Stern's, as they have the most beautiful collections of semi-precious gems in the world, but so far he has been spared!

Spring Bazaar Set for Saturday

Saturday, Mar. 8, the Robert Louis Stevenson School is holding its annual Spring bazaar and carnival. The action, slated to begin at 11 a.m., will feature many unusual items.

The carnival, run by the students, will have many different booths. Art Lara and Gary Bechtel, who are co-chairmen of the carnival, along with their assistants, David Haynes and Scott Bullen, are proudly going to present about a dozen booths, each giving away many nice prizes.

For the gambler in the group, there are two booths that makes one feel that he is in Reno without actually being there. The Cart Poker, run by some members of the Junior class and Wheel of Fortune, headed by Cory Smith with Jim Brosn and Jim Dunn assisting are exceptionally fine.

For the baseball player who is trying to get into shape for spring, the Toss The Ball In the Hole, with Chip Pischel and Frank Moffet running it, and Sponge Throw, with Scott Bayless and Mike Bartholow at the helm, are sure bets to strengthen those tender arms.

For the average person who just wants to try his luck in some sport, the Nickel Toss, run by the Freshman class, Guess the Pennies, run by Ed Loescher and Pat Anderson, Dart Throw at Ballon, run by Larry Booth and Barry Biggerstaff, Ring Toss, run by Interact, and the Electric Maze, run by Andrew Wille and Don Goldwater, should easily suffice.

For the artist in the group, there is the new Spin Art booth, operated by Jeff Smith, Jim Henderson, and Clark Segerstrom.

For those that get out of line, one can always put them into the Jail, operated by the Junior Class. Like at most carnivals, one gets hungry. With this in mind, the Gnomes will once again operate their annual food booth.

Inside, where the Mothers club will be holding their annual Bazaar, many fine things are going to be sold.

At 1:00, the auction will begin, and Mrs. John Brock has guaranteed many unusually as well as useful items will be sold. Among these items is a beautiful Irish Salt Chair, which today, is extremely hard to find. Also being auctioned will be two oriental rugs.

At 2:00, the drawing will begin, and Mrs. Tom Hudson, raffle chairman, has guaranteed many fine prizes. Heading this group of prizes is a beautiful set of luggage made by the Atlanta Co. Other prizes include six sport jackets from Whitneys, a salad bowl from I. Maginans, a purse and matching gloves from Elizabeth Simmons Fashion, a sweater from Derek Rayne, a turtleneck shirt from Boys' Town, two lunches at the Red Lion, a set of towels from Pampered Hamper, four books from Bud Scott, two half-hour private lessons from Don Hamilton, the Pebble Beach tennis pro, one book worth four car washes at El Estero Car Wash, two sheets, one of leopard the other of jaguar from Mark Raggett, a case of wine from Ron's Liquor Store, a sweater from Mason's of Carmel, and a hair brush and comb set from Charmack and Chandler in Monterey.

Stores donating merchandise orders to the drawing were Kent of Carmel ($50.00), Pacific Grove Cleaners ($10.00), Lilli's Boutique ($15.00), California Record Shop ($4.50), Harriet Duncan ($15.00), Del Monte Golf Shop, ($25.00), Mark Fenwick ($10.00), and the Mediterranean Market ($10.00). Other stores donating merchandise orders include the Corner Cupboard and Rasmussen and Moody.

Also featured in this drawing are four dinners and wine from these following restaurants: La Playa, Outrigger, Mark Thomas Inn, Domenici's, Club XIX at the Del Monte Lodge, and the Rocky Point Lodge. The Nut Tree has donated three gift certificates for three dinners each.

The women in charge of this carnival and bazaar are Mrs. James Hague as chairman and Mrs. William Brown as Co-Chairman.

All proceeds from this annual event will go to the Robert Louis Stevenson School scholarship fund.

COME TO THE CABARET — Carmel High School drum majorettes Karla Easer, top, and Janice Buckham, kneeling, issue an invitation to the second annual "Cabaret" to be held in the high school gym on Friday and Saturday, Mar. 7 and 8. The theme of this year's production is the South Seas, and Gayle Campbell will be student director and Gary Cohn as me. The program will range from folk singers to combos to a German Band to a duet by Arthur Gumbrell, principal of the school, and math teach Vic Selby. A portable TV set will be the main door prize, and tickets are $1. Contact Mrs. George Walker, 624-2037, or Mrs. Tor Spindler, 624-6109. In Carmel Valley, Mrs. Robert Beckstrom, 659-4323.

Movie Review

Le Biches—Dramatic conflict at St. Tropez in winter. Made in France, the stars are Jean Louis Trintighant, Stephane Audran and Jacqueline Sassard.

Hot Millions — A story about big business and a computer, a winning combination of comics make this truly funny. Peter Ustinov, Bob Newhart, Robert Morley are the funnymen, the straight man is Karl Malden.

The Fixer — A young Jew (Alan Bates, who has been nominated for an Academy Award for his performance) in Czarist Russia is falsely accused of ritual murder.

The Impossible Years — A barrel of laughs, and what else can there be when David Niven plays comedy. Captivating newcomer Crisina Ferrare in this farce of modern teenagers.

Romeo and Juliet — Franco Zeffirelli's production starring Leonard Whiting, 17, as Romeo and Olivia Hussey, 16, as Juliet. A sensitive and poetic picture shot in northern Italy where the tragedy actually occurred.

The Lion In Winter — Peter O'Toole and Katherine Hepburn turn in outstanding performances in this drama of Henry II and his queen. Great dialogue and a great film.

Secret Ceremony — Filmed in London, this is drama in the truest sense. Elizabeth Taylor plays a prostitute and Mia Farrow thinks she is her mother.

Rachel, Rachel — Paul Newman directs his wife, Joanne Woodward in a brilliant portrait of a small town school teacher. The film has been nominated for an Academy Award, as has Joanne Woodward.

The Heart Is A Lonely Hunter — Alan Arkin has been nominated for an Academy Award for his portrayal of a deaf mute. He gives a moving performance as a man of loneliness.

Charly — Experimental brain surgery changes a mentally retarded young man into a brilliant adult confronted with new and serious problems. Cliff Robertson, Claire Bloom.

Harmony Comes To Sunset Mar. 7-8

It's time for Barbershop harmony chords to ring again as the Monterey Peninsula Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America presents its 15th annual Barbershop show, "Harmony at Sunset" at the Sunset Auditorium in Carmel on Friday and Saturday evening, Mar. 7 and 8, at 8:15 p.m.

The show cast this year includes The Upside Downeys from Downey, Cali.; The Glad Dads from Santa Rosa, who won the Norcal Novice Quartet Contest held in Monterey in January; The B Sharps from Monterey; The Old Time Harmony Four from San Jose, and the Monterey Peninsula Chapter chorus.

The Old Time Harmony Four quartet was organized in 1965. Finding time between their jobs and raising their large families for singing, these four personable gentlemen have developed stage presence and vocal quality that is always pleasing to see and hear. All four are experienced Barbershop singers and can boast of 75 75 years of Barbershopping spread among them.

The Upside Downeys also began singing together in 1965. They have appeared on radio and television, and have traveled throughout California, Utah, and Arizona. They come to the Sunset stage direct from a successful 17-day USO tour of the Pacific hospitals.

Tickets for the show are available at Abinante's Music Store, Monterey, Holman's in Pacific Grove, Central Box Office, Carmel, and the Thunderbird Book Store, Carmel Valley.

Theatre Guide

When We Are Married — Typical British drawing room comedy laid in a small village at the turn of the century. The cast is excellent, the laughs frequent, the chuckles almost continuous. Fine stage fare at the Circle Theatre.

Under The Yum Yum Tree — Fast moving comedy about a flighty girl, her accommodating boy friend, her worldly-wise aunt and a landlord who epitomizes the wolf fraternity. Great stuff.

Padres Close Hoop Season With Loss To Monterey In Tourney

By Hal Gann

As all Carmel High basketball experts know "As Winkler goes, so go the Padres."

Last Wednesday evening against Santa Cruz in the first half, the local varsity basketball team's star center, Bruce Winkler, nursing an extremely rough case of the flu with a temperature ranging to 104, provided this spectator with the most dazzling individual display of high school basketball I have seen in the last 10 years.

The Padres lost this intra-league game in the Central Coast playoff action, but returned home intent on winning their own tournament, the 22nd Annual Carmel Invitational, and the night following the seven-point loss to Santa Cruz, coasted to a 69-35 romp over Junipero in an opening round game, with Winkler getting a big rest.

But Friday night was a different story. The convalescent Wink sprained an ankle in the second quarter against a red-hot Monterey team, and although he came back early in the second half, Bruce was hobbling all the way, as Carmel at one time closed the Toreadore lead to seven.

But Monterey, having won 11 of its last 12 games, was playing superior basketball to post a 76-62 upset victory.

Earlier, with Wink at full strength, Carmel bested the 'Dores, 62-50, in the Seaside Tournament.

Winkler could not play at all in the battle for third spot in Carmel's final game of the tourney and the season, as junior Pete Shaw (6-3) filled in with a promising 16 point performance, the Padres coming from behind to best Ceres, 73-63. Senior Chris Laiolo hit for 15.

It was 13 straight league victories this season, without defeat, for Coach Jason Harbert's charges, unquestionably, one of the finest teams in the history of Carmel High School. The roof caved in prior to the Gonzales game. Winkler came down with the flu and only played 12 minutes. A week earlier Ross Smith broke a foot against King City and Steve Taylor wrenched a knee against Holy Cross. Consequently Gonzales pulled the upset of the season, beating Carmel 42-41, in overtime, then the loss to Santa Cruz and to Monterey.

So, the local varsity basketballers post a 13 and 1 to win the Mission Trail Athletic League for the fifth time in the school's history, and register a 19 and 5 mark, overall.

Monterey Club Asks Rugby Tournament Entry Mar. 22-23

No decision has been reached by the selection committee of the Northern California Rugby Football Union as to the fate of the entry of the Monterey Rugby Club team in the 11th National Monterey Rugby Tourmanent to be held on the Monterey Peninsula, 22-23 March.

The military - dominated team is fresh off a 34-0 shellacking of the San Francisco Rugby Club B team. The Monterey Peninsula Jaycees, sponsor of the Monterey Rugby Club, is ecstatic about the 8-2 record and the overall excellence of the play of this first year team.

As of Feb. 19, 23 teams, of which 10 are out of state, had submitted their entries for the tournament. Continuing their rivalry will be Stanford University and the University of Southern California. Two new applicants for the Monterey Tournament and expected to provide extremely tough competition, are the Western Washington Rugby Club and the old Mission Beach Athletic Club from San Diego.

Padre Baseball Prospects Look Fine As Carmel Opens Against Alumni

Athletic Director Monty Feekes, who doubles as head baseball coach at Carmel High, is looking forward to a promising year as the Padres open the 1969 season against the Alumni this Friday at 4 p.m. on the local diamond.

Four to five key games each month will be broadcast by KRSA-FM, 100.7 Mc., starting with this Friday's game, air time, 3:50 p.m.

The Carmel skipper is depending on strong-armed senior right-hander Lee Mark to handle most of the hurling chores, and will call frequently on sophomore Tom Boyd, juniors Jay Argust and Rob Gimble and senior Rusty Vandervort, all left-handers.

Feekes will be leaning heavily on the hitting abilities of senior first baseman Mitch Kastros, along with Argust, 3B, Rusty Vandervort, 2B, and junior centerfielder Brink Harrison.

This year the Padres should do much better than their fifth place MTAL finish last season, and Hollister appears to be the team that can win the championship.

Carmel has one of the finer high school baseball diamonds in the country, thanks to a progressive boosters club, which has made it possible for the local park to have "major league" accommodations, such as adequate seating for the fans, dugouts for the players, and an electric scoreboard.

"It doesn't cost anyone to watch our baseball team play, and we'll put on a good show for you," Feekes says.

One of the Carmel High Booster Club's more active members, Jim Kelsey, will be the player-manager for the Alumni Nine, consisting of many prominent names from the Padre past.

Along the infield, it will be Packy Porter catching, Kelsey at first, Bob Updike at second, Gene Ricketts at third, Gene Vandervort at shortstop, and two of the members of the outfield will be Jerry and Paul Artellan.

MARCH, 1969 SCHEDULE

Fri. 7 — Alumni, 4 p.m.
Tues. 11 — Monterey, 4 p.m.
Sat, 15 — at Santa Cruz, Harvey West Stadium, 11 a.m.

Little League Tryouts To Be Held Saturday At Carmel High Field

The first of a series of three try-outs for Carmel Little League teams will be held at 11:00 a.m., Saturday, Mar. 8, at the High School baseball field.

The additional try-outs will be held on Mar. 15 and 22. In order to play on a major league team, boys must attend at least two of the three try-outs. Times and location of the last two, will be published next week.

Any boy who was unable to sign up for Little League last week may do so at this Saturday's try-out.

In the unlikely event of rain on Saturday, the try-out will be cancelled.

SOUTH OF OCEAN AVENUE
CHARMING 3-BEDROOM HOME ON 3½ LOTS

A large, beamed ceiling living room features this charming older home not far from the center of Carmel. There are 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths, modern kitchen, dining room and basement. The home is situated on the 3½ lots so that one lot, a corner, can readily be sold off. Full price $59,000.

CARMEL MEADOWS — 1 BEDROOM — $38,500

A charming home, in excellent condition, with some ocean view, and sweeping valley view, a large 1-bedroom custom built home, easily expandable. Full price, just $38,500.

CARMEL — COMMERCIAL — $45,000

40' x 100', zoned C-1-S. There is an old house on the property, which could produce some income if the property is not developed immediately. Commercial land is very hard to find in Carmel, and this piece is reasonably priced.

RANCHO RIO VISTA LOT FOR $9,750

Imagine being able to buy a lot in a top Carmel area for under $10,000. We can do even better than that, if you'll buy TWO, you can have them BOTH for only $18,500. They're GOOD building sites, too.

The Importance of an Entry

ASK ANY MOTHER
What she wants in her new home and she'll reply immediately, "an entry hall!" She is primarily interested in regulating the flow of family traffic, so the living room stays guest-ready and the family is able to go separate ways to their separate pursuits. SHE would love our big house in Carmel near Woods School, especially if she has a really big family with a lot of interests. Many bedrooms, many baths, many square feet of happy living. Price is $59,500. Ask for a photo.

ASK ANY PARTY-GIVER
what room could she not do without, and she'll tell you it's the entry hall — the place where guests can enter and leave graciously without disrupting the whole party. Party-givers would love the property at the cross-roads of golf in M.P.C.C. First it has an entry courtyard, completely walled from the street. Then it has a lovely entry with stonelite tile, one closet for owners' coats and a big one for guests' wraps, a floor-to-ceiling opaque window, handsome doors, fine wall for a lavabo or credenza and mirror. Enter either the living room or family room from here. The price is a firm $67,500, and every other part of this handsome property justifies it as completely as does its elegant entry.

BOTH OF THESE TYPES
will revel in our brand new home on Mora Lane in the Forest. The entry here will hold 10 to 20 people all saying goodbye or hello at once, and the kids can still scoot by into their bedroom wing, or into the family room. So pretty you could even extend the dining table to a mammoth length right on out into this entry hall. This is a friendly house with wainscoated and papered walls throughout, a Spanish style fireplace in the living room and a real Early-American kind in the den. You're bound to have guests, and you will bless the entry which makes their reception so pleasant. Price is $65,000.

ASK ANY RECLUSE
And he'll let you know that an entry hall to him serves the primary purpose of keeping his other rooms away from the public view. He'll love a long entry, with beautiful stone walls and clerestory windows with a waterfall at the end. In fact, the guest here will be so fascinated he'll walk right by studio, darkroom, bedroom and kitchen, directly into the living room with its waterfall and its brook. If this sounds ridiculous, but still you're curious, and if you can use a small size house with big size architectural interest, at a price of $37,500, INQUIRE!

THE BLOTTER

by c.r. bee

A rash of car clouts hit residents on Torres between 8th and 10th on Friday night, when nearly $1,000 in tools, tape recorders, fire extinguishers, binoculars and a .22 caliber pistol in a holster, were stolen from parked cars.

Losses occurred to Andre Duranleau, William Lindsey, Erik Jensen, James Kramer and John Nightengale, all living on Torres or cross streets.

However, after Friday night, things were quiet for the rest of the week.

On Monday, police were alerted to look for a 15-year-old runaway girl. A rock band rehearsing caused complaints from neighbors, and the leader promised to turn down the amplification.

On Tuesday evening, neighbors complained of a loud basketball game in the Sunset Center gym. Police found several boys playing basketball, and requested them to leave. The boys maintained they had permission from Manager Cole Weston to be in the gym, but Weston said they were supposed to be out of the gym by 4:30 p.m., and not playing basketball after 11 p.m.

Even the Emergency Ambulance service had a quiet week, responding to three medical emergencies and removing the victims to Community Hospital, and to two auto accidents, no serious injuries involved.

The Fire Department will hold training drills on Thursday, Mar. 13 and 20 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., and on Sunday morning, Mar. 23.

They'll be burning down a house on Mission between Rio Road and Santa Lucia, firing it a little at a time and putting it out until the final burning on Sunday morning beginning at 7 a.m.

They have taken all precautions to eliminate any hazards to neighboring properties.

Anyone who has any questions about these training drills, feel free to call the Fire Station at 624-1718.

West Show

where she directed at the Vancouver Little Theater.

At this time Mrs. West had her first painting lessons when she began study with Varley of the famous Canadian Group of Seven.

When the Wests moved to Carmel, she took up the study of painting again under John and Patricia Cunningham at the Carmel Art Institute.

Since then, Mrs. West has had one-man shows in San Francisco, Vancouver and Carmel, and has won awards at the Madonna Festival in Los Angeles and other religious art exhibitions.

The Carmel Art Association gallery is open daily from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m., and admission is free.

OBITUARY

Eddie Knudsen Williams, 89, the father Mrs. Wendell C. (Lillian) Redding of Pebble Beach, with whom he made his home, and Sidney Lloyd Williams of Rancho Rio Vista of Carmel, died Feb. 20. Native of Norway, he went to sea as a youth and lived in Australia and Alaska before coming to California.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Charlyne L. Otrich, 38, who had operated with her husband, Kenneth, Candles of Carmel, died unexpectedly Feb. 27. They lived at Lincoln and 11th. Native of Denver, Colorado, Mrs. Otrich leaves two daughters, Miss Victoria P. Otrich and Mrs. William (Pamela) Jaggers, both of Carmel.

Private family services were held at Mission Mortuary, officiated by the Rev. Alexander Bryans of the Church of the Wayfarer to which contributions may be made in honor of her memory.

Seaman James W. Jaggers, USN, who has been serving off the coast of Vietnam, was able to return for the funeral.

OBITUARY

Roger Von Eckhardt Hope, 51, Carmel resident for more than 12 years whose wife Andre died two years ago, died recently. He was a writer and artist and once had an art gallery here. He was employed in the audio-visual department at the Naval Postgraduate School. He is survived by his mother and a brother.

City Council Meeting

given final reading and adoption. One concerned definitions of terms in the zoning portion of the municipal code; another "prohibits interference with the police"; and the third, establishes the new business classification of "owner-builder."

Permission was given by the Council to Marcia Hovick's Children's Experimental Theater to rent the underground portion of the Forest Theater until June 15 at $100 a month. In another art-related matter, the Council refused to accept a painting in lieu of an accumulation of past-due rent of "about $450" from Marlinde von Ruhs who had long occupied a room at Sunset Center but now has moved to Mexico.

The Council "took note" of an agreement between the Carmel Sanitary District and the new Pebble Beach Sanitary District which will permit the construction of a sewer line from Pebble Beach along San Antonio street, then along 15th street and finally along Dolores street to the District's treatment plant and outfall area.

Councilman Blanks expressed regret that City Councils of past years had allowed what is a usual city function — sewerage — to be operated instead by a separate entity, known here as the Carmel Sanitary District.

In a new departure, the Council lumped a series of seven routine items under a single heading, called "consent calendar," and approved them in a single motion.
